18th October 2012

Dear Parents/Guardians,

As you are probably aware from your children all the pupils in the school will record the song 'Any Dream Will Do' tomorrow. This song will be part of a special CD to raise funds for a special needs child Amy O'Neill Redmond. The project is the brainchild of Bunclody Vocational College and like the other schools in the town we are delighted to be part of such a worthwhile project.

To record the song all pupils will visit Bunclody Vocational College tomorrow Friday 19th October for 11.00am. We will leave the school at 10.25am and should be back before 11.20am. The pupils will walk down under the supervision of teachers and staff and come directly back after the recording.

We would encourage all pupils to bring their coats with them to school tomorrow in case of bad weather!

Sincerely,

Seamus Mac Roféir

(Principal)
